Subject: MPD TO HOST ACTIVE SHOOTER PREPAREDNESS SYMPOSIUM

Tomorrow, August 23, 2019, the Miami Police Shield Detail will be hosting an Active Shooter Preparedness Symposium for the faculty and staff of The Cushman School in the Miami Police College auditorium, located at 350 N.W. 2 Avenue, from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

The Miami Police Shield Detail is committed to making our community one of the safest in the United States. As a police department, we pride ourselves with providing first-class police services to all of our residents and visitors. In our continued commitment to make Miami safer, we have created the Miami Police Shield Detail.

The Miami Police Shield Detail uses a community-focused policing method to counter terrorism, homegrown violent extremists, active shooter events, bomb threats, and local crime. Shield is designed to engage community members on national and local security issues by delivering civilian training and establishing information-sharing partnerships across economic sectors. The combination of public awareness and police visibility, coupled with several avenues of reliable communication, is a formula that the Miami Police Department has employed in the past with great success in the deterrence of crime.

The keynote speaker will be Coral Springs Police Department's Deputy Chief Brad McKeone, one of the many first responders to the mass shooting at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Florida.

Media is invited to attend.
